Continuation Sheet 1

Name of Organisation:

Greening Mortimer

what are you looking for continued.....We have identified from our research that the best value for money camera is the Bosch Professional GTC 400C costing £875.99 each. The camera is easy to use and will help people interpret the images and identify opportunities for reducing heat loss and therefore energy

Supplementary evidence continued.....The launch set out 8 challenge to take-on and those that sign up will commit to 5 of those challenges. If we as a community have the appetite and desire and momentum then we can really make a difference. This is phase 1

Phase 2 is designed to work together as a community to protect our local environment , retrofit our homes and support human health

If momentum continues we can create a vision for or community and act together to build a safer future.
